Kylie,

I'm writing to say thank you for your inspirational and motivational presentation at our recent National Telstra / TBSD Channel Partner Conference in Brisbane.

Your message was so obviously relevant for all 70 attending delegates most of whom are small business owners and would, like most, struggle with combining work, health and exercise in a busy and competitive business environment.

I also congratulate you on how you delivered your compelling story and underlying messages. The structure of your presentation flowed and kept everyone attentive and all eye's glued on you. I particularly enjoyed how you engaged individuals and the audience as a whole with some relevant and timely humor.

I can assure you your message was received loud and clear with many delegates providing positive comments after the awards night.

So thank you again for "inspiring" us all and I wish you every success with "Kylie's Courage".

Regards

Jim Bradley
